Peculiar Ideas Regarding a Common

Disease.

Mark Twain's cure for a cold in the head was simple, but he claims very effective in his own case; his plan was to eat nothing whatever for twenty-four hours or presumably until the trouble had disappeared.

Although not able to speak from personal experience as to the effectiveness of this treatment, it certainly has the merit of extreme economy, but it occurs to us that the application of it to a case of masa; catarrh might be attend d with difficulties.

Catarrh, as every one knows, is chronic cold in the head, and Mr. Twain's treatment, if it should become a fad, would make of us a nation of fast rs; an army emulating the example of the immortal Tanner, who achieved worldwide fame by fasting forty days.

Catarrh is certainly becoming a national disease, and there is little doubt but that errors in diet, particularly over-eating is a very common cause.

Most people, however, are more interested in the cure of the trouble than in ested in the cure of the trouble than in the cause, and modern medical science has produced more effective and less heroic remedies than Mr. Twain's. Gualacol is a new remedy, very effec-tive in some forms of catarrit. Eucalyptol another which on account of its antiseptic properties is very valuable, while many severe cases of caronic catarrh have been entirely cured by the sanguinaria, or extract of blood root alone.

Within a year an enterprising chemist has combined all of these remedies in tablet form, palatable and convenient, and the superiority of this tablet over other catarrh remedies is so apparent that all draggists now carry them in stock to supply the popular demand.

They are called Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and it is doubtful if any medicine has achieved a national popularity in so short a time as this.

Stpart's Catarrh Tablets are used by thousands of traveling men because they can be carried in the pocket and used any time and in any quantity, being free from cocaine, opiate, or any poisonous four.

They clear the h ad and throat from

They clear the h ad and throat from the disgusting secretions of catarrh, very often in a few hours' time.

For nasal catarrh they are far superior to any wash, lotten or olintment, the use of which is often as inconvenient and annoying as the disease itself.

For coughs, colds, bronchial catarrh and catarrh of the stomach these tablets give immediate relief and a permanent cure where lotions, douches and inhalers make no impression whatever.

This preparation is a boon to catarrh sufferers, and any druggists will tell you edy that has come to stay. that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is a rem.

Then a sore or ulcer appears on some part of the body; it may be small and harmless looking at first, but as the cancerous cells form and are deposited by the blood near the sore, it increases in size and severity, with sharp shooting pains. No matter how often the sore is removed by the surgeon's knife or flesh destroying plasters, another comes and is worse. The real disease is in the blood, and the treatment must begin there. The poisoned blood must be invigorated and purified, and when this is done cancerous cells can no longer form and the sore will heal naturally and permanently.

JUSTICE JOHN IN THE BOUDOIR

The Written Law Hindrance to Dispensing Justice.

THE OLD WAY AND THE NEW.

Grimly Does His Duty When All Hope Is Gone, and Sends a Boy to Jail for Stealing-Two Dollars and a Half for a Good Lick,

Justice John was as busy in the boudoir yesterday as a man selling circus tickets and answered petitioners with a shoo-fly-don't-bother-me kind of an air that was very shocking to people looking for a soft thing.

The Grat Dispenser is being uncomfortably hedged in by the written law, and it interferes terribly with the administration of the common-sense justice in istration of the common-sense justice in which he dears.

When there is no ordinance or statute on the subject he k-eps a set of handy laws of his own in the back of the book, and the regulation of human affairs goes on without a hitch, but when he is handicapped by a specific written statute that some busy-body cals to his attention then there's trouble in the court.

CASE IN POINT.

Now, for instance, there are a great many bad boys in Richmond who "jump on and off electric cars while in motion"—i. e., "steal a ride"—against the peace and dignity of the Commonw-alth.

The Great Dis_enser has managed this evil in a splendid way, according to size.

evil in a splendid way, according to size. A big, overgrown, lubberly boy with long pants on would be charged $2.50; a boy with short pants on would be the $1 size, and if on a real diminutive scale he'd make his mother "burn him up."

make his mother "burn him up."

Now comes along a man and calls his attention to an ordinance fixing a specific, unclastic fine of $5 for this offense, and the Great Disp.nser declared he would have to obey the law. There is no intermediate ground. There will be bigg r fines and more whippings; that's all.

DID HIS DUTY.

A path the case this morning was that of Jesse Rowe, a boy seventeen years old, who stood charged with stealing twenty pounds of brass scraps from the Richmond Passeng.r and Power Company at their Church Hill shops. The Richmond Passeng r and Power Company at their Church Hill shops. The boy, in his shame, denied the theft, and declared he was after a pigeon which it we over the fence.

Then, when the evidence seemed closing in on him, he hung his head and in low tones besought the Justice not to do anything with him.

Having sought to bring out any point that might appear in the boys favor without success, Justice John heaved a sigh, and saying "I must do my duty," sentenced him to thirty days in jail for petty out success, Justice John and saying "I must do my duty," sentenced him to thirty days in jail for petty larceny, and the boy returned to the pen with a bianched face full of m.sery.

Edward Murphy was charged with being drunk, and was still "under influence" when his name was called.

He staggered from the pen, and the truth of the charge against him was so self-evident that he was fined and ordered back to the pen before he was well on the way to the bar, and looked as dazed at the proceedings as a man who had just drawn the capital prize in the Louisana drawn the capital prize in the Louisiana lottery.

CROSS PURPOSE. CROSS PURPOSE.

Wm. Louis (colored) was charged with beating Sidney Jones. William was intent on telling what Sidney did, and the Great Dispenser was full of purpose to FEEDS BRAIN-WORKERS.

A Food Made Especially for Them, A literary woman, Mrs. J. C. Roberts, 193 Holmes St., Dallas, Tex., has discovered that a properly selected brain food s of great benefit to any brain worker. the says: "My duties as journalist require me to write all day, particularly in the winter, but heretofore after luncheon, no matter how light I made it, I found myself incapacitated for work for an hour or two, for my brain would not respond to the demand.

"I saw an advertisement of Grape-Nuts for brain workers and determined to give it a trial. I am charmed with the rosult, and am now in perfect health. I use Grape-Nuts for luncheon, and never sufing to my work at once, feeling as bright as when I left it. I know from experience that this preparation is invaluable for brain work rs, who are apt to find that that period of time given up to digestion is one of almost total eclipse of mental

In this day and age of concentrated effort, it is wise for brain workers to use a food especially adapted for rebuilding the brain and nerve centers. Grape-Nuts food was invented by an expert especially for that purpose. Knowledge of the food elements contained in the grains and how to prepare these elements so as to be quicky absorbed by the body, and used directly to replenish the lost phos-phate of potash (which is exhausted by mental work) have brought about the result. The proof can be had by any brain worker who will take the trouble to use Grape-Nuts for a few days,

SCHOOL TEACHERS CONFER. They Agree That the Retirement Fund Will Prove Beneficial.

Will Prove Benencial.

The meeting of public school teachers held at Central School yesterday was one of the largest and most important the teachers have ever held. Between seventy-five and one hundred ladies and gentlemen who have charge of training of the young minds of Richmond, were present. Two subjects in which there is Two subjects in which there is g neral interest were discussed. They were music and the propord discarders' retirement fund. Mr. Walter C. Mercer, who has been chosen instructor of music for the city schools, delivered a lecture, in which he explained how this branch of study is to be installed in the schools. He said for some time the work would only embrace ele-mentary music, but would gradually grow until advanced classes of music are taught. Following the address of Mr. Mercer, Capt. A. B. Guigon explained the teachers' retirement fund, which he said was to be a fund to provide for teachers who have served their period of usefulness and have to retire from active work. He said funds of this character had been established in other cities and had proved successful and most satisfactory to the teachers. Major James H. Capers also advocated the teachers' fund, and Superintendeent Fox spoke at some length, explaining how the fund could be created without imposing burdens on the teachers. Confes of the law governing teachers. Copies of the law, governing the proposed fund wer distributed. This act was passed last January and provides for a board of trustees to have general charge of the funds, the city treasurer to be custodian. So far as the teachers are concerned
